- BUY, higher MYR1.02 TP from MYR0.92, 43% upside. 1H23 core earnings of MYR13.1m (+28.1% YoY) met expectations, buoyed by solid growth in the transaction payment acquisition (TPA) segment, which saw an uptick in the merchant discount rate (MDR). The share price weakness presents a good buying opportunity into the cashless payment megatrend – as seen from the transaction payment value (TPV) growth trend – along with a robust pipeline of deals for shared and solutions services to fuel FY23 growth.
- Results in line. GHL Systems' 1H23 revenue of MYR214m (+10.4% YoY) and core profit came in at 41% and 39.1% of our and Street's full-year expectations. We deem the results as in line, as 2H is seasonally stronger. The TPA segment showed healthy +16.6% YoY growth to MYR151m with better performances across the three countries GHL operates in. Similarly, higher revenue (+37.5% YoY) for the solution services segment was spurred by stronger maintenance revenue and software sales in the Philippines. These more than offset the weakness in the shared services segment due to slower electronic data capture (EDC) terminal sales and rental revenue (-5.5%).
- Sustaining growth momentum. Stronger revenue of MYR110m (+5.8% QoQ, +8.7% YoY) lifted core profit to MYR6.5m (-1.3% QoQ, +32.1% YoY), driven by higher TPV processed and MDR, despite weaker consumer sentiment/spending. Better performance was seen in all countries GHL operates in, following the relaxation of travel restrictions, reopening of more retail outlets, and an increase in tourism activities. Notably, both GPM and MDR for TPA trended higher due to changes in merchant as well as product mix, while e-pay recorded lower blended MDR during the quarter.
- TPV trend. 2Q23 combined TPV remained on an uptrend (+6% YoY, +3% QoQ) to MYR7.26bn, supported by sustained retail spending and increased transactions at physical merchants as well as more inbound tourism. GHL's acceptance points that contributed to the TPA and e-pay grew 3% QoQ and 1% YoY to 181,000.
- Forecasts and ratings. We keep our forecasts but raise our TP to MYR1.02 as we roll forward the valuation base year to FY24F, based on a lower 30x P/E (from 31x), in line with -0.5x of the 5-year mean. The TP includes a 6% ESG premium. The sustainable growth trend in cashless transactions continues to gain strength, while the resumption of tourism activities in the ASEAN region could be another boon for better numbers in 2H23 – on top of the healthy pipeline of business deals. The recent launch of SME Digital Loan solutions to tap into the underserved SMEs on the existing merchant acquiring infrastructure and ecosystem could be the next growth engine.
- Downside risks to our call include weaker-than-expected TPVs and margins, as well as bad debts and EDC terminal sales.
