- Maintain BUY and MYR4.62 TP, 58% upside with 6% FY22F yield. Unisem's FY21 core earnings of MYR202.2m (+34.8% YoY) and third interim DPS of 2 sen (flat YoY) are in line. 4Q21 revenue is at a record MYR426.4m. The sustained strong results were supported by higher sales volumes from all products and better operating leverage. Management remains optimistic on maintaining these metrics, despite a historically softer upcoming quarter – with robust loadings from all customers, thanks to the structural growth in demand, and the continued bottleneck in the semiconductor chips industry.
- Another record year. FY21 revenue of MYR1.57bn (+21.7% YoY) was boosted by strong demand across all product segments amid capacity bottlenecks in the semiconductor integrated circuit space. Its China unit contributed c.55% of revenue and 68% of earnings. While margins were comparable YoY, core earnings expanded by a greater magnitude to another record high, owing to higher operating leverage and net interest income.
- QoQ rebound. 4Q21 core earnings grew by 50.3% QoQ to MYR60m on higher revenue (+16.4%) and the resumption of production at its Ipoh facility, following the lifting of the EMCO. However, YoY numbers were flattish despite the higher topline of MYR426.4m (+16.4%), due to the lower EBIDTA margin (-3.6ppts) as the Ipoh operation was sub-optimal due to wafer and manpower shortages as well as strict standard operating procedures in place. Total capex incurred in 4Q21 was MYR143.1m (FY21: MYR571.1m), mainly for additional capacity expansions, while headcount dipped slightly to 5,968 from 6,074 employees, due to challenges faced in hiring workers following some contract non-renewals.
- Management expects to chart a similarly strong performance in the coming quarter, given the robust loadings from all customers. Despite the higher utility tariff and manpower costs, UNI remains optimistic of a partial pass-through of additional costs to customers. We understand that the Phase 3A expansion of Chengdu plant is now underway, and it is expected to commence operations come 1Q22. Meanwhile, its new Ipoh plant expansion should start construction by 1H22, and be ready by end-2023. The plant expansions are expected to cost MYR250m-300m each.
- Keep BUY. We maintain our forecasts and TP, as the results are in line. Our TP of MYR4.62 is pegged to an unchanged target P/E of 32x, (+2SD from the 3-year mean), with a 2% ESG discount applied, based on our in-house proprietary ESG methodology. We believe Unisem will continue to book strong earnings in the upcoming quarters, tracking the overall robust demand and favourable factors in the semiconductor sector. Medium-term growth can be expected, once the major plant expansions in China and Ipoh begin contributing significantly to group numbers, from FY23-24F onwards.
- Downside risks: Lower-than-expected orders, stronger-than-expected MYR vs USD, and a resurgence of COVID-19 cases.

Overall ESG Score: 2.90 (out of 4)

E: GOOD

The group monitors and manage its greenhouse gas emissions. Various key energy consumption reduction initiatives are performed at its sites. In terms of waste management, Unisem has a target of achieving a 50% recycling rate of total scheduled waste generated. All of its sites comply with local environmental laws on e-waste handling and practices

S: GOOD

Unisem has a safety and health policy in place, to create a safe and conducive work environment for its employees. Health and safety training is provided to enhance employee safety awareness.

G: GOOD

Unisem has applied and adopted the majority of the best practices of the Malaysian Code on Corporate Governance. Nevertheless, we highlight that the CEO and Chairman position are held by the same person. Independent board members represent less than half of the Board, while women directors represents only 18% of women participation on the board (less than the 30% target)
