Berjaya Food (BFD MK)

Yet To Reap Benefits Of Full Reopening; BUY

- Maintain BUY and MYR2.55 TP, 25% upside with c.3% FY22F (Jun) yield. Berjaya Food's 1QFY22 results came in line with expectations, on the back of commendable SSSG following the easing of movement restrictions since phase 2 of the National Recovery Plan (NRP). We believe that the best is yet to come, as the full effect of a sustained recovery has yet to translate through (considering the capacity restrictions in place), while its aggressive expansion drive should boost earnings in the medium term.
- Results are broadly in line. Berjaya Food reported 1QFY22 core earnings of MYR11.6m (>100% QoQ, +5.7% YoY). At 22% of our/consensus full-year estimates, the results are broadly in line with expectations. On a QoQ basis, 1QFY22 revenue was up by 3.9% from more encouraging sales performance following the green light for dining-in activities since August. 1QFY22 core profit grew by >100% QoQ from a low base, as the previous quarter saw the one-off recognition from the termination of the Starbucks reward programme. On a YoY basis, 1QFY22 revenue ticked up by 3.9% from healthy SSSG, likely due to pent-up demand, and earnings by 5.7%. A DPS of 1.0 sen was declared for the quarter, and is payable on 30 Dec.
- The best is yet to come. Considering the capacity restrictions that are still in place for F&B players, we believe BFood has yet to reap the full benefits of a full-fledged and sustained economic reopening, with around 90% of stores currently operating. We expect contributions from dine-in sales to pick up even more substantially, as we move through latter phases of the NRP – which should bring about a further easing of capacity restrictions, thereby boosting sales. The rollout of booster shots and the more promising outlook of a bigger portion of the population being vaccinated should also allow foot traffic at the stores to gain further momentum – adding on to the heightened contributions from its alternative sales channels. We gather that 1QFY22 saw 55% of its sales being derived from customers dining in.
- On track to meet FY22 expansion target. Recall that management targets to open 35-40 Starbucks outlets in FY22. Having opened four outlets in 1QFY22 and another seven in 2QFY22 (target of 15 outlets for 2QFY22), BFood is well on track to meet its target as it seamlessly embarks on an aggressive expansion plan in the midst of easing restrictions, driving growth for the medium term. Meanwhile, Kenny Rogers Roasters (KRR) saw the closure of another underperforming store for the quarter. We think that the losses arising from KRR should narrow further moving forward, as capacity restrictions ease further – while leveraging on central kitchens and food aggregators to support its sales.
- We maintain our forecasts. Our TP of MYR2.55 implies a 19x FY22F P/E, which is +1SD above the 5-year mean. We ascribe a 2% ESG premium to our TP, as BFood's ESG score of 3.1 is above the country median. Downside risks to our outlook: Slower-than-expected turnaround for KRR and a persistent resurgence in COVID-19 infection rates.
